

I live in a small market city where very few stations feel it is profitable to broadcast from so XM gives me the variety and quality of music i need. I pay for this service and it should not be up to anyone else to decide what i want to listen to.